The Humboldt-Universität Berlin provides a Flexible Childcare service at short notice, so that its employees as well as members of post-grad programs and specialist research teams can pursue their professional commitments outside the regular opening hours of daycare / preschool centers, or when their child or babysitter is sick. The childcare agency “Kids Mobil” has the necessary staff and resources on hand.

Flexible Childcare may be required for the following reasons:
- A child is sick
- A parent is required to step in for a colleague at short notice
- The regular daycare center closes; the babysitter or anticipated career falls ill, etc.
- Work schedule is irregular and/or is no longer covered by regular childcare programs
- A parent needs to participate in a conference, field trip, committee work, etc.
- Extra-curriculum events or seminars fall outside regular childcare programs
- ... Or for some other reason
